

Doing their Christmas shopping early. A group of society debutantes snapped on Fifth Avenue while making the rounds of the stores for holiday gifts. Left to right are the Misses Carolyn H. McCoon, Virginia De Haven, Constance Banks, Katherine Adams, Margaret Hennessey, Margaret Powers and Edith McCoon.

Central News.

Above: General Bramwell Booth of the Salvation Army leaving London with his party on a tour through India.

New York Herald Foreign Photo.

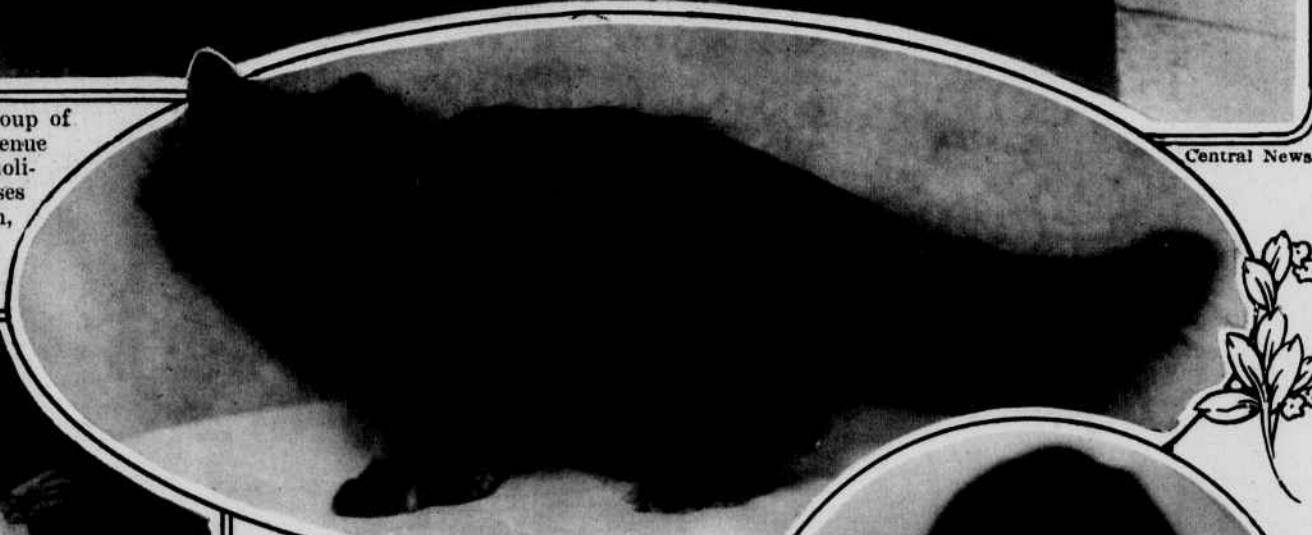

An interesting portrait of Premier Mussolini of Italy as a corporal of the Bersaglieri in which he served during the War. New York Herald Foreign Photo.

Miss Alice Peterson and Miss Anne Schmidt in a scene from "The Holy Grail," a rhythmic pictorial oratorio presented at St Marks-in-the-Bouwerie.

Wide World.

Lavender Sunny Lad, owned by Miss E. G. Hydon, a prize winner in the annual championship show of the Empire Cat Club.

Levick.

Miss Sophie Treadwell, whose new play of Mexican life, "Gringo," recently opened at the Comedy Theater.

Bachrach.

Little Miss Elsie Sudberg, 16-months-old daughter of the American skiing champion, early in life evinces a fondness for her father's favorite sport.

Underwood & Underwood.

Deer aplenty in Michigan. In spite of the fact that there was no snow on which to trail the crafty bucks, a party of hunters from Cheboygan got eleven deer in eleven days of the season just closed.

Frank Day Tuttle, Jr., of New York as Cleopatra in the Yale University Dramatic Association's annual production, "Caesar and Cleopatra," to be given in New York.

A charming photograph of Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, who was Miss Katherine E. Force, in her bridal gown after her wedding in the home of her sister, Mrs. William K. Dick.

Underwood & Underwood.